PAST DUE

Nearly 2 million Americans are diagnosed with cancer every year, navigating a complex care system while they endure the effects of treatment, and maybe even lose their jobs — all while facing overwhelming health care costs. Fifty-one percent of people with cancer and survivors surveyed report having medical debt from their cancer.

Congress can and must:

- Make increased ACA subsidies permanent
- Cap out-of-pocket costs in Medicare Part D
- Close the Medicaid coverage gap

Taking action is past due. Congress, prioritize affordable cancer care in the budget reconciliation package.
